How has the fund performed?

This section tells you how the fund has performed over the last 2 years. Returns are after expenses have been deducted. These expenses reduce the fund's returns. It's important to note that this doesn't tell you how the fund will perform in the future. Also, your actual after-tax return will depend on your personal tax situation.

Average return

A person who invested $1,000 in the fund at inception now has $836.70 as at September 30, 2011. This works out to an annual compound return of -14.3%.

Year by Year returns

This chart shows the series' annual performance for the years shown. The fund did not drop in value over the years shown.

How risky is it?

When you invest in a fund, the value of your investment can go down as well as up. Webb Asset Management Canada, Inc. has rated this fund's risk as medium to high.

For a description of the specific risks of the fund, see the fund's simplified prospectus.

Are there any guarantees?

Like most mutual funds, this fund doesn't have any guarantees. You may not get back the amount of money you invest.

Who is this fund for?

Investors who are seeking capital appreciation and are prepared to invest for the long-term.

Don't buy this fund if you need a steady source of income from your investment.

! Before you invest in any fund, you should consider how it would work with your other investments and your tolerance for risk.

WEBB ASSET MANAGEMENT

A word about tax

In general, you pay tax on your share of the fund's earnings and on taxable capital gains you realize from redeeming your investment. The amount of tax depends on the tax rates that apply to you, and the type of earnings realized by the fund (e.g. interest, dividends, capital gains, etc.). In general, registered retirement savings plans and other registered plans don't pay tax on investments.

If you hold your investment outside of a registered plan, we will send you a tax slip that shows your share of the fund's earnings. However, you must calculate your taxable capital gains realized on redemption.

How much does it cost?

The following tables show the fees and expenses you could pay to buy, own and sell Series A units of the fund. The fund has other Series of units. The fees and expenses are different for each Series. Ask about other Series that may be suitable for you.

1. Sales charges

You must pay an initial sales charge when you buy the fund.

Sales charge option	What you pay		How it works
	in percent (%)	in dollars ($)
Initial sales charge	Up to 5% of the amount you buy	$0 to $50 at time of purchase (based on $1,000 investment)	You and your dealer negotiate the rate. The initial sales charge is deducted from the amount you invest at the time of purchase and is paid to your dealer as sales commission.

2. Fund expenses

You don't pay these expenses directly. They affect you because they reduce the fund's returns. As of June 30, 2011, the fund's expenses were 9.68% of its value. This equals $96.80 for every $1,000 invested.

The fund pays the manager performance fees equal to 20% of the amount by which the fund outperforms its benchmark (60% the S&P/TSX Composite Total Return Index, 20% the Russell 3000 Total Return Index and 20% the MSCI EAFE Gross Total Return Index). If the fund underperforms the benchmark on any day, then no performance fee is paid to the manager until the underperformance has next been made up. For the year ended December 31, 2010, the fund did not pay a performance fee.

Trailing commission

Webb Asset Management Canada, Inc. pays your dealer a trailing commission for the services and advice your dealer provides. The trailing commission is paid out of the management fee. The trailing commission is paid for as long as you own the fund. The rate is equal to 1.00% of the value of your investment each year. This equals up to $10.00 each year for every $1,000 invested.

3. Other fees

You may have to pay other fees when you sell or switch units of the fund.

Fee	What you pay
Short-term trading fee	Up to 2% of the value of units you sell or transfer within 90 days of buying them, payable to the fund.
Switch fee	You may switch your units for Series A units of other funds managed by the manager. Your dealer may charge you up to 2% of the value of the units switched.

How has the fund performed?

This section tells you how the fund has performed over the past 2 years. Returns are after expenses have been deducted. These expenses reduce the fund's returns. It's important to note that this doesn't tell you how the fund will perform in the future. Also, your actual after-tax return will depend on your personal tax situation.

Average return

A person who invested $1,000 in the fund at inception now has $ 951.86 as at September 30, 2011. This works out to an annual compound return of -3.5%.

Year by Year returns

This chart shows the series' annual performance for the years shown. The fund did not drop in value over the years shown.

How risky is it?

When you invest in a fund, the value of your investment can go down as well as up. Webb Asset Management Canada, Inc. has rated this fund's risk as low to medium.

For a description of the specific risks of the fund, see the fund's simplified prospectus.

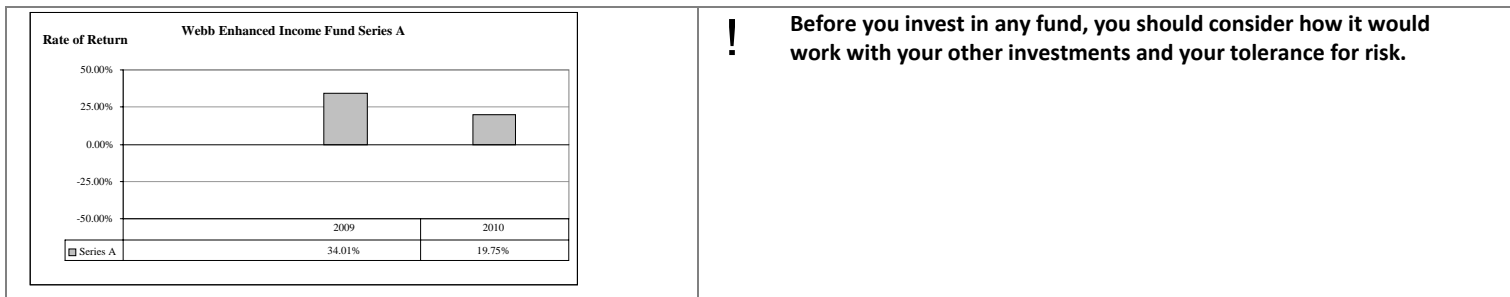

Are there any guarantees?

Like most mutual funds, this fund doesn't have any guarantees. You may not get back the amount of money you invest.

Who is this fund for?

Investors who are seeking a relatively stable stream of monthly distributions, consisting of returns of capital and capital gains, and modest capital growth.

Don't buy this fund if you hold the units in a registered plan.

! Before you invest in any fund, you should consider how it would work with your other investments and your tolerance for risk.

A word about tax

In general, you pay tax on your share of the fund's earnings and on taxable capital gains you realize from redeeming your investment. The amount of tax depends on the tax rates that apply to you, and the type of earnings realized by the fund (e.g. interest, dividends, capital gains, etc.). In general, registered retirement savings plans and other registered plans don't pay tax on investments.

If you hold your investment outside of a registered plan, we will send you a tax slip that shows your share of the fund's earnings. However, you must calculate your taxable capital gains realized on redemption.

How much does it cost?

The following tables show the fees and expenses you could pay to buy, own and sell Series F units of the fund. The fund has other Series of units. The fees and expenses are different for each Series. Ask about other Series that may be suitable for you

There are no sales charges in connection with the purchase of these units. Instead you may be required to pay your dealer an advisory or asset based fee directly.

1. Fund expenses

You don't pay these expenses directly. They affect you because they reduce the fund's returns. As of June 30, 2011, the fund's expenses were 3.02% of its value. This equals $30.20 for every $1,000 invested.

Annual rate (as a % of the fund's value)

Management expense ratio (MER)

This is the total of the fund's management fee and operating expenses. 2.51%

Trading expense ratio (TER)

These are the fund's trading costs 0.51%

Fund expenses 3.02%

The fund pays the manager performance fees equal to 20% of the amount by which the fund outperforms its benchmark (40% the S&P/TSX Preferred Share Total Return Index, 40% the MSCI World High Dividend Yield USD Gross Total Return Index and 20% the Bloomberg/EFFAS Canadian Government Bond Total Return Index). If the fund underperforms the benchmark on any day, then no performance fee is paid to the manager until the underperformance has next been made up. For the year ended December 31, 2010, the fund did not pay a performance fee.

2. Other fees

You may have to pay other fees when you sell or switch units of the fund.

Fee What you pay

Short-term trading fee Up to 2% of the value of units you sell or transfer within 90 days of buying them, payable to the fund.
